Adil Ahmad Awan awan@usatoday.com KABUL, Afghanistan — U.S. Secretary of State Rex Tillerson said Thursday that several Taliban prisoners released in exchange for the release of American service members will remain in Afghanistan because the United States does not have troops on the ground to aid in their resettlement. Tillerson's statement came after President Donald Trump had signaled that he may order a return to the U.S. occupation of Afghanistan. "We will not be leaving Afghanistan. No decision has been made with respect to additional U.S. troops," Trump told ABC News in an interview posted on Facebook on Thursday. His remarks set up the possibility of a new front in the conflict in Afghanistan, as U.S. commanders warn that a failure to end the war could leave American forces in Afghanistan facing a bloodier, more dangerous mission. "When the day comes that American forces cease to be part of that force, we will evaluate the situation, " Tillerson said on a stop in Kabul, Afghanistan's capital. "At that time, we will make a determination. It's very hard

What's new:

“Space is the great killer of profits, “ I said to him. “You have to fill it to earn a profit.” “If you can fill the place comfortably, I don’t care if you profit or not, “ he replied. “That’s why I claim it’s better to live in first-class condition than on the income it brings.” Ah. He was using Airplane English. He thought Economy Class English was being used. That’s what this guy wanted my wife to teach him. I had to do a survey of such clueless students. I was reminded of The Blood on the Snowshoes. I don’t mind filling up my place of residence for as long as I’m happy with the folks I’m living with, their features, and their activities. That said, there’s a time and a space for every activity. I’m doing this blog to consolidate my content for future reference. ‘Space’ is a serendipitous space for “whispering things in my ears” which confirm what I’m already learning and sharing. Self study is a wasted effort only, if there isn’t anytime for reflection and print at the end of the day. Every idea, and dream, should go through the revolve process. What may be difficult to choose is within reach when the right idea is presented. I can’t think this way without the print, though. I’ve been learning of how to avoid being that senior handyman out of work. Economics dictates it’s hard to move up, even if you’ve been working hard. One of the best ways to survive is an intelligent savings plan which can pay for your modern way of life, your life’s dream, or a house, vehicle, and future for your kids. I take time, every day, to remind myself that I can earn more, save, and invest.

Every activity, all the time, must serve as a learning process. My learning? I desire to leave a better world for my kids. Maybe I'm an idler. Oh, no. It's how it is. Airline tickets, for example, must be an expensive "something". It's a fast-paced world.
